

Dear Neighbor:

Michigan is home to more than 680,000 veterans — the 11th largest veteran population in the country. House Republicans are working hard to help each and every veteran in the Great Lakes State by ensuring they are treated with the respect and fairness they deserve.

Since 2010, House Republicans have made important changes to state law to allow military training and experience to count toward licensing requirements in many trades and professions; invested money into our veterans homes and armories; created veterans designations on Michigan driver's licenses and state IDs to make it easier for our heroes to get their benefits; and provided free Recreation Passports to state parks for disabled veterans, former POWs and Medal of Honor recipients.

The state also recently created the Michigan Veterans Affairs Agency to ensure Michigan veterans have a one-stop-shop for information, benefits, assistance, and other opportunities across the state.

While our work will never be complete, House Republicans are continuing to fight for Michigan's veterans, who have earned a bright future by protecting our country and our rights for more than 200 years. From jobs and education to benefits and services, veterans are a priority in Michigan.

Sincerely,

AARON MILLER

VETERANS UPDATE

Easing the Transition into Civilian Life

Veterans acquire an incredible variety of skills and talents while serving in the U.S. Armed Forces. But all too often they face serious challenges when translating that experience into the civilian workforce. Since 2011, the Legislature has enacted a series of laws waiving certain occupational licensing regulations if a veteran can demonstrate comparable levels of experience. For example, we just recently approved a bill to help veterans looking for work as boiler installers, repairers or inspectors (HB 4134), allowing military training to count toward civilian licensure.

The waivers are granted through the Department of Licensing and Regulatory Affairs and are intended to reduce burdensome regulations that prevent servicemen and women from entering the civilian workforce.

Bills Introduced to Protect Rights of All Veterans with Service Dogs

Bipartisan legislation will protect veterans' rights to have trained dogs accompany them in public settings. Trained service dogs play an important role in the lives of veterans experiencing service-related stress or injury, and these Michigan veterans need the freedom to bring their companions into every social situation. Current law grants this freedom to veterans suffering physical ailments, but the bills we are working on now will give similar relief for veterans with unseen war wounds.

Michigan Veterans Affairs Agency

In 2013, Gov. Rick Snyder created the Michigan Veterans Affairs Agency to connect those who have served in the U.S. Armed Forces, and their families, with the services and benefits they have earned. MVAA helps veterans alleviate short-term financial emergencies through the Michigan Veterans Trust Fund, connect with service providers in their communities and apply for federal VA benefits through partnerships with veterans service organizations and county departments of veterans affairs. MVAA also operates the Grand

Q: WHO IS A VETERAN?

A: A veteran is any man or woman who has served in the United States Armed Forces.

Q: WHAT QUALIFIES A VETERAN FOR BENEFITS?

A: The qualification process depends on a variety of factors including length of service, whether service occurred during war or peacetime, characterization of discharge and the type of service – active, reserve or National Guard. BETTER SERVING THOSE WHO'VE SERVED OUR COUNTRY

As a part of the 2016 state budget, the state Legislature created the County Incentive Grant program. A total of $250,000 was set aside to help fund new county departments of veterans affairs, hire additional accredited veteran counselors and upgrade or invest in new technology. These grants will help veterans throughout Michigan receive more of the federal benefits they have earned by making it easier and more convenient to meet with an accredited veterans service officer in the counties where they live. So far this year, a total of 14 county veterans service offices have received grants, covering 16 counties.
